Blue Poison Dart Frog

schleich WILD LIFE Blue Poison Dart Frog:

The Blue Poison Dart Frog makes its home in the tropical rainforest of South America. This one likes playing hide-and-seek in your house plants, though.

The bright Blue Poison Dart Frog with black spots on its back is beautiful. Although it's so small, it immediately stands out with this fancy coloring. Contrary to its name, its skin is only poisonous when it eats the ants in its native rainforest in South America. If you feed it other food, you can safely take the pretty little frog in your hand. Give it a try!
